Joe Sandoval: Behind the bro

To help raise money for the school, Joe proposes to add a kissing booth. Does anyone think that spreading germs and diseases to raise money is such a good idea? There are already enough diseases being spread around the school the way it is, but Joe thinks it's not enough. Vote no for kissing booths, vote yes for bacon.

One of the classes Joe plans to offer is a cosmetics class. What skills does this class offer, other than sharing lipstick? If Joe plans to have this as a class, he should think about the cost and expenses of lipsticks and eyeliner. Vote no for make up, vote yes for pie.

Joe wants to add trap-shooting as an extra curricular activity. First of all, guns aren't allowed in school, and secondly, he is oblivious about what happened at Columbine. By adding trap shooting, he is encouraging students to fire guns on school property. Do we really want someone who supports school shootings? Vote no for guns, vote yes for ice cream.
