ELLIOT BLUE: FILLING OUR SCHOOL WITH FECES

Elliot Blue proposes adding a petting zoo to our school building. What does he propose to do about the smell? Nothing. Elliot Blue is planning to expose you to countless deadly diseases through the filthy animals sharing a school building with you. Besides that, the money lost paying for the care of the animals vastly outweighs the money raised by the zoo. Elliot Blue is also moving for seasonally scented hallways with no thought to those of us who suffer from allergies. Ask yourself: Do you want to attend a school with people contracting lethal diseases and suffering massive allergy attacks EVERY DAY? We didn't think so.

AUSTIN WEISENBACH: PUTTING OUR SCHOOL IN DANGER

Austin Weisenbach is irresponsible. Though deadlines are clearly posted in multiple locations, he failed to turn in his book cover on time. And we have just one question: Do you really want such an irresponsible candidate adding a shooting range to our school? Neither do we.

Nate Boscaljon: Against Womens Athletics

Presidential candidate Nate Boscaljon proposes cutting two girl's sports, though state law clearly declares the number of women's athletics must be equivalent to the number of men's athletics. This translates to only one thing: Nate Boscaljon hates women. In addition, Nate's platform clearly states he would like to bring bars to our lovely school. Obviously Nate is in favor of teachers being drunk on the job and he is lending his support to underage drinking. When you think about Nate Boscaljon, think about the women he's depriving, and the drunkenness he's proposing.
