

NATER'S GONNA NATE?

NATER'S GONNA FAKE

Nate Boscaljon is running to be your next president at Brandon Valley High School. Do not be fooled! The only thing Nate runs for is track, NOT for YOU.

PUTTING BARS IN SCHOOL

State and federal law declare the drinking age for American citizens to be twenty-one. Nate, the potential next BVHS President, wants to completely disregard the law and put bars in school. Supporting illegal actions of high school students is not acceptable. Doesn't he realize we have a cop in school? Officer Else will certainly be busy handing out under-ages.

FATTEN UP, AMERICA

Not only does Nate plan on "Nating" by making physical education an elective, not a mandatory class. In addition, a snack bar will be made available and students will be allowed to eat and drink in class. Does the word obesity come to mind? Nate doesn't seem to mind if the Brandon student body gains the "freshman fif-

CUTTING PORK SPENDING?

Nate plans to cut pork spending. However, in his first commercial, Nate and his party were shown eat-ing pork... which leads the viewer to conclude that Nate isn't cutting pork at all, he's spending more money on pork just to eat it. Is that how you want your hard earned tax dollars used?
